

Application for Exemption from the Shared Responsibility Payment for Members of Recognized Religious Sects or Divisions

Use this application to apply for an exemption from the shared responsibility payment

- Every person needs to have health coverage or make a payment on their federal income tax return called the “shared responsibility payment.”
- Some people are exempt from making this payment. This application is for one category of exemption, for members of Recognized Religious Sects or Divisions. There are other applications for other categories of exemptions. You may apply for certain other categories of exemptions when you file your federal income tax return.
- You don't need to apply for an exemption if you're not going to file a federal income tax return. If you're not sure you'll file a tax return, you may want to apply for an exemption anyway.

Who can use this application?

- Use this application if you and/or anyone in your tax household is a member of an approved religious sect or division which is described in section 1402(g)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code, and an adherent of established tenets or teachings of such sect or division, including conscientious opposition to acceptance of the benefits of any private or public insurance which makes payments in the event of death, disability, old-age, or retirement or makes payments toward the cost of, or provides services for, medical care (including Medicare and Social Security.)
- If you qualify, you won't need to reapply for this exemption unless you turn 21 or leave your religious sect.
- If you turn 21, and you're a member of a religious sect or division, you'll need to send in your own religious exemption application (as an individual tax filer) to qualify for the lifetime exemption.
- You can use one single application to ask for this exemption for more than one person in your tax household.
- If you have a religious sects or divisions exemption from the Marketplace already and you get married, you'll need to send in a new application with your spouse so we can update your information with the IRS.

What you need to apply

- The name and address of your religious sect.
- Social Security Numbers (SSNs), if you have them.
- If you have one, a copy of an approved IRS Form 4029 (“Application for Exemption from Social Security and Medicare Taxes and Waiver of Benefits”) with required signatures. Note: you're not required to have this form to apply for this exemption, as long as your religious sect or division is on the official list maintained by the Social Security Administration.

Why do we ask for this information?

We ask for Social Security Numbers and other information to make sure your exemption is counted when you file your federal income tax return. We ask for the name of your religious sect or division to make sure it is on the official list maintained by the Social Security Administration. We'll keep all the information you give private and secure, as required by law. To view the Privacy Act Statement, go to HealthCare.gov or see instructions.

STEP 2: Tell us about your tax household.

Who do you need to include on this application?

You need to complete Step 2 for every person in your household who is on the same federal income tax return. If the person doesn't want an exemption, just answer questions 1-7 of Step 2.

For Person 1:

Person 1 must be an adult who files a federal income tax return in your household, even if they don't want an exemption.

For Person 2:

Person 2 can be either:

- A spouse who files taxes jointly with Person 1.
- Anyone that Person 1 claims as a dependent on the same tax return.

Who not to include:

- A spouse who files taxes separately. Spouses who file separately need to fill out a separate application for themselves and for each person they claim on their tax return.
- Anyone who lives with you but who isn't listed on your tax return. Each person who needs an exemption must be on an application with the person who lists them on a tax return.

You should apply for this exemption based on how you file taxes. If you're a member of a religious sect or division who recently turned 21 and you now file your own taxes, you should submit your own exemption application to qualify for the lifetime exemption.

If you don't plan to file taxes, you don't need to apply for an exemption.

You'll get an eligibility determination letter in the mail after your application is processed. If you get this exemption, we'll give you an Exemption Certificate Number (ECN) with your approval letter. Keep the letter for your records. You'll need to put this number on your federal income tax return at the time you file taxes.

We'll keep all the information you provide private and secure, as required by law. We'll use personal information only to check if you're eligible for an exemption.

NEED HELP WITH YOUR APPLICATION? Visit HealthCare.gov, or call us at 1-800-318-2596. Para obtener una copia de este formulario en Español, llame 1-800-318-2596.
